To deliver better outcomes and quality of life, many states are shifting from fee-for-service to alternative payment models that base payment on value, outcomes, and quality of services. ANCOR and MediSked have partnered to offer: “Provider Readiness for Operating in Alternative Payment Environments,” a webinar for those interested in alternative payment models and value-based payments. During the webinar, subject matter experts will share industry insights including:

- A brief overview of the alternate payment method continuum.
- Examine current trends in value-based purchasing and managed long-term services and supports.
- Review tasks that will ready an organization for these changes.

Participants in this webinar will also receive a free white paper that dives even deeper into these critical topics and supports agencies as they prepare for this fundamental shift in the payment landscape.
