

Paul Bingham, associate dean in the College of IT and academic program director for the Western Governors University (WGU) cybersecurity degree.

Paul joined WGU in 2019, after 24 years as an FBI agent, conducting and managing domestic and international investigations. He is an accomplished instructor and featured presenter in topics including cybersecurity and incident response. Paul holds cyber certifications including the CISSP, GCIH, GSEC, and GISP and a Master of Accountancy and Bachelor of Science in Accounting from Brigham Young University. LinkedIn

FBI Special Agent Cerena Coughlin, employment recruiter and applicant coordinator for the Philadelphia Field Office. In addition to her role with the FBI, Special Agent Coughlin is a local private sector coordinator for InfraGard, a public/private partnership between the FBI and representatives of critical infrastructure. She was a member of the Los Angeles Innocent Images SAFE Team, where she participated in investigations of child exploitation, and was assigned to Counterterrorism squads in LA and Baltimore, and Cyber in Philadelphia. She joined the FBI in March, 2001. LinkedIn

Al Wilson, information security specialist at Children's Hospital of Philadelphia. Al is president emeritus of Philadelphia InfraGard Members Alliance. LinkedIn

Caroline Chapman, Assistant Vice President, Account Manager and member of the Cyber Technology Practice within Lockton Financial Services. Caroline's focus is primarily on professional liability and cyber insurance. She has experience with clients in a range of industries, including retail, energy, food and beverage, real estate, hospitality, technology services, and consulting. Caroline's primary account responsibilities include risk identification, program design and negotiation, renewal placement, administrative project management, and ongoing customer service delivery. Caroline joined Lockton in 2016 after working in the finance field for four years. LinkedIn